WEST FORSYTH HIGH SCHOOL

(OPENED SEPTEMBER, 1964)

FOREWORD

Cronus was the mightiest of the Titans, elder gods who ruled supreme in the universe for untold ages. When the Olympian gods gained control of the mythical world, Cronus reigned as the patron god of the Golden Age. As he led the ancient men into a time of peace and prosperity, so shall West Forsyth High School lead her students into a time of understanding and advancement.

ALMA MATER

Here's to dear old West High,
Of which we are so proud.
With victory our motto,
Our voices we raise loud.
Our banner raised in Titan praise,
Our name we shall uphold;
So here's to dear old West High,
And her green, her white and gold.
Years after we have parted
Our memories will hold;
Those glorious days at West High,
And her green, her white and gold.

Dedication

We, the senior class of 1965, dedicate the Cronus to a person who has been our adviser, teacher, and friend during our four years of high school. With no bounds to her energy and enthusiasm, she has advised and inspired us both inside and outside the classroom. In our freshman, junior and senior years, many of us have been taught English and creative writing by this teacher. Not one student could leave her class without having gained a deeper appreciation and understanding of poetry and other branches of literature.

Outside the classroom, her time has been used in helping us through many projects. Direction of one of the junior plays and assistance in giving as well as planning the Jr.-Sr. Prom of 1964 can never be forgotten by our class nor by succeeding ones. These jobs she brought with her from Southwest and continues to guide the present junior class.

As yearbook advisor in her fourth year, this teacher has given up much of her time after school, at nights and on Saturdays to guide the staff in producing an interesting annual for the student body.

For all these contributions plus her earnest concern for us as individuals and her unwavering belief in West, the senior class dedicates, with pleasure, this first volume of the Cronus to Mrs. Juanita S. Clarke.

Backstage, Mrs. Clarke finds a brief moment to relax during one of the junior plays.

Time Out From Studies . . .

Hey, have you heard the one about . . .

Academics

West Faculty

In his familiar job of opening a new school, Mr. Simpson established West and started the wheels of its machinery turning smoothly. Whether he was attending students' social functions, adding a dash of wit to the assemblies, or nudging the students along their paths, he proved to be not only a leader of the students but also a friend to us. Aided by a competent faculty, he has provided for the needs and many desires of West Forsyth.

Mr. Simpson, affectionately called the "Bear" by the West students, always seems to find time to listen to even the most minor problem and then do his best to remedy the situation . . . The understanding nature of Mr. Underwood brings students flocking to his office door every morning with the wildest absence excuses . . . Mrs. Harper is one good sport to put up with the ridiculous requests students come up with . . . Miss Adams, the official "shoulder-to-cry-on" at West, keeps busy testing and filling out college transcripts, but takes time out once in a while for one of her hearty laughs . . . Mr. Allred coaches the Varsity Baseball team and the Junior Varsity Basketball team. In addition, he teaches one of the first classes of psychology at West — very slowly — with his drawl . . . Mrs. Berridge teaches a full load of chemistry classes and still has time to advise the Student Council and help with the Junior Plays and the Jr.-Sr. Prom . . . Mrs. Bowers has a determination and a love for teaching that just won't quit and West sure is glad . . . Co-ordinator of the Distributive Education program at West, Mrs. Bowser sees that all her students have a job . . .

Direct Plays, Advise Publications,

The first mechanical drawing class at West is taught by Mr. Bradley. Perhaps someday architects will come from this class . . . Mrs. Bridges, quiet and easy-going, keeps the Junior Marshals busy at graduation time . . . Mrs. Clarke has quite a job with the yearbook, the Junior Plays and the Prom too, but she still finds time to keep her English and creative writing classes busy and to sneak out for a cup of coffee now and then . . . Miss Cook, Girls' Varsity Basketball coach and Physical Education instructor, keeps most of West's girls in shape. 1-2-3-4 . . . Mrs. Cooke has a deep love for John, Bradley and World Peace Speeches!!! Mr. Crotts, a sponsor of the Future Farmers Club, always manages a smile for everyone . . . Advisor to the Zephyr staff, Miss Farthing also has her hands full with her work in the Junior Plays, the Prom, and the Quill and Scroll . . . Our talented music instructor is the one responsible for building up our band and music department. Thanks to Mr. Foreman, West has one of the best bands around and one of the most-heard-of choral groups, the Miester Singers. During Christmas, recordings of our own Singers could be heard on a local radio station . . .

Mrs. Foster who teaches Latin to the Southwest Junior High students as well as our students, tells all her students that Latin is not a dead language . . . Mr. Frederick, one of the most debonair members of the faculty, is also a football and basketball coach . . . Every time you see Mr. Giles, he is helping someone. Maybe that's one reason all his students like him . . . Mrs. Bonnie Green knows her polygons all right! In addition to teaching several different classes of mathematics, she advises the Math Club and the National Honor Society . . . Our other Mrs. Greene who teaches home economics, is co-sponsor of the F.H.A. Two things she is never without are energy and a kind word for all her students . . . Mr. Hall, Key Club advisor, has a wonderful voice. But, in his math classes, he feels that it's best to lecture — he sings between classes . . . Mrs. Hester, the advisor to the F.T.A., has light fingers on the keyboard of her typewriter, but a heavy foot on the gas when driving her sports car. She has her suspicions about these characters who wear sunglasses to class . . .

Clubs, And Coach Athletics

The drill team, the Titanides, is another West "first" and is sponsored by Mrs. Huffaker. She has the nicest smile . . . Miss Huffman, a sponsor of the F.H.A., keeps a close-knit relationship with all her students. She also is responsible for putting some of the verve into our cheering squads as their faculty advisor . . . The aspiring artists at West have Miss Johnston as their teacher this year. She also teaches classes at the junior high school . . . Jim Mast who is West's Boys' Varsity Basketball coach and the Junior Varsity Football coach, lets it be known that he won't stand for any "funny stuff" — but he does know some pretty funny jokes . . . Mrs. Mast, who was "Miss Swaringen" last year, helps poor seniors understand Macbeth and 30 Days . . . Mrs. McGirt keeps our beautiful new library immaculate and a quiet place for study and research . . . "Little Beaver," who is sometimes referred to as Mr. Miller, reconstructs history for his students and coaches football too.

Mr. Pratt, sometimes seen riding across the campus in the pick-up with a load of boys in back, sponsors the F.F.A. Club also . . . Mr. Robinson, one of the most congenial of the teachers at West, enjoys a good discussion on the problems of our times. He's always well-read on every subject . . . The only red-head on the faculty at present, Mrs. Russell, has trained countless students for secretarial work . . . Mr. Snyder, a true scientist at heart, directs the Science Fair, sponsors the Science Club, and puts his all into his biology classes . . . Mr. Taylor is an expert at using the sliderule; this knowledge he passes on to his advanced math students. He also teaches geometry and two levels of algebra to West students . . . Mrs. Whittle, who advises the Youth for Christ Chapter at West, is a French teacher one period, an English teacher the next . . . Soft-spoken and charming, "Madame Wilson," la professeur de francaise provides the Y-Teens with scores of new ideas and helps renew the old ones too . . . Mr. "Gus" Young definitely has a nose for sports — he's head football coach, wrestling coach and track coach.

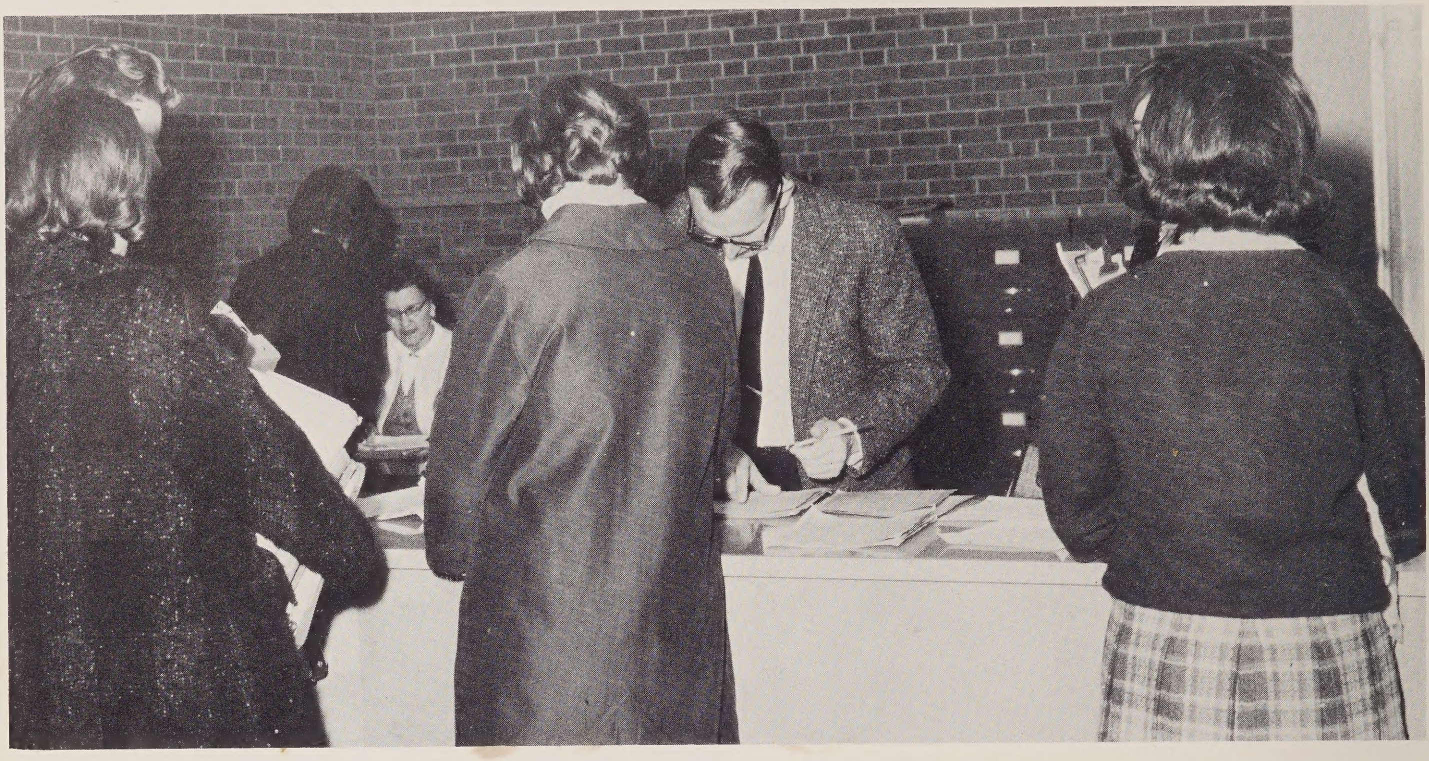
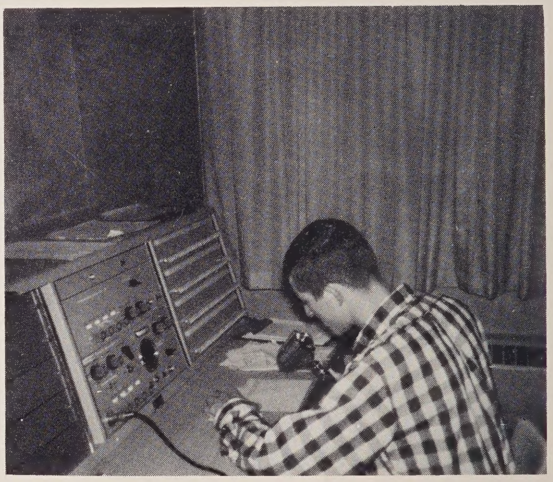
Through Tireless Efforts

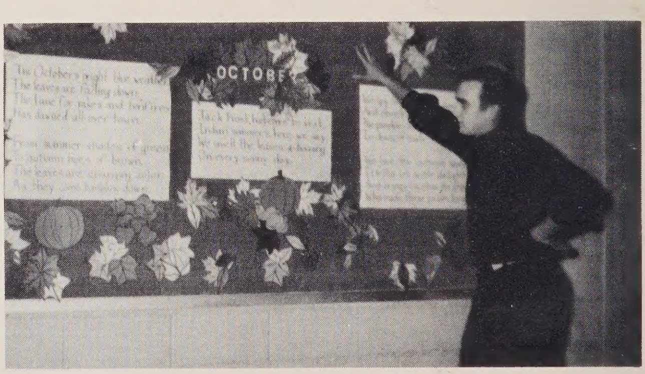


Mr. Underwood writes tardy slips for our ten o'clock scholars.

Mrs. McGirt: "Here are the cards, where are the books?"



The following people please report to the conference room immediately.



Jimmy Dix pauses to read the verse on the October bulletin board in building E.

West Forsyth Is A Success

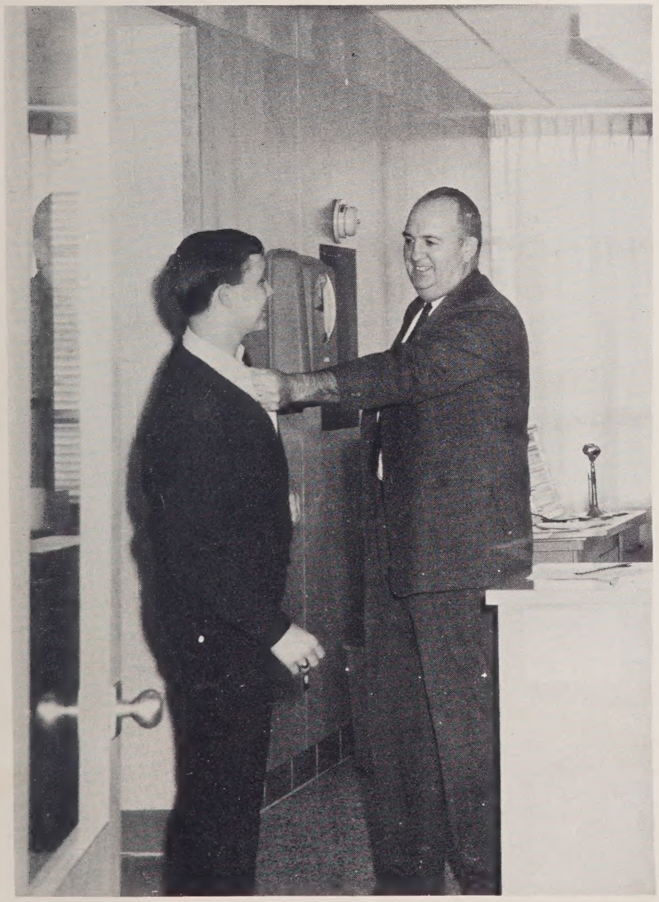
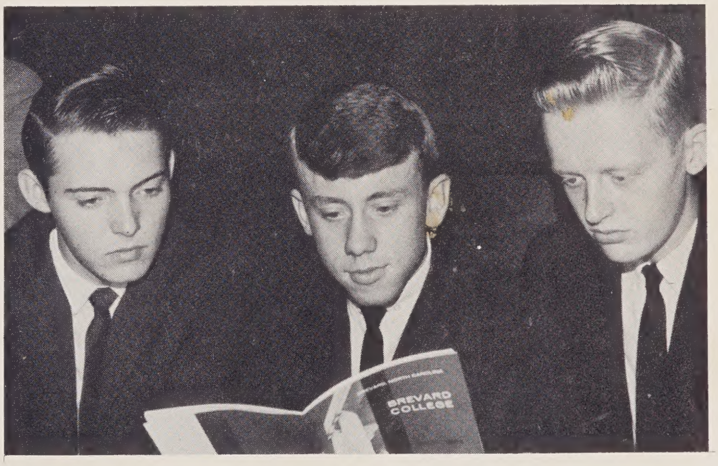
Mr. Simpson and Ricky have another "friendly chat!"



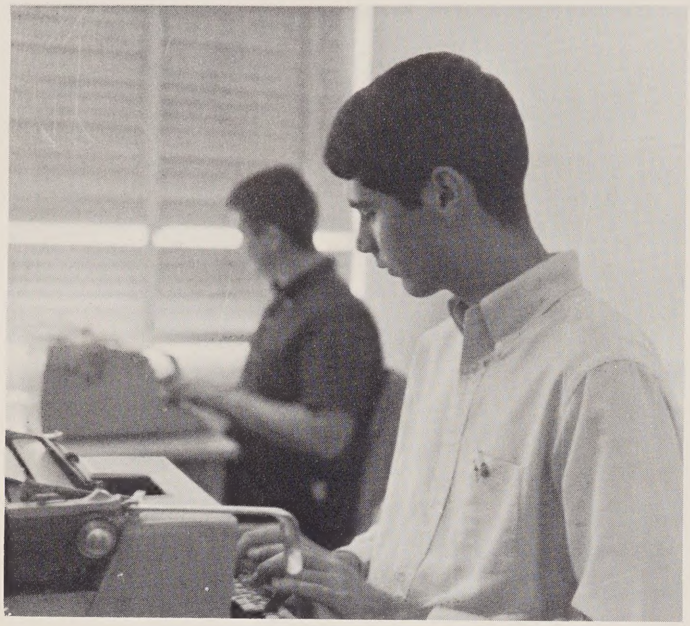


Buel, Duane, and Kenneth begin the struggle to make their big decision.

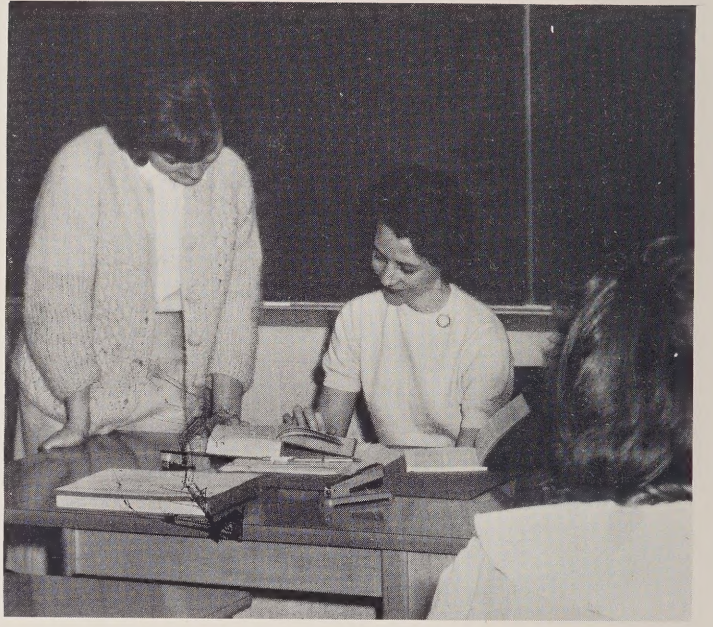
Miss Adams gives good advice to the students on opening day.

Students Learn . . .

Typing



Practice, practice — David tries to improve his speed and accuracy in personal typing, a course taken for one semester only.



Mrs. Hester corrects a shorthand mistake for Sue Sheets, a commercial student.

Art

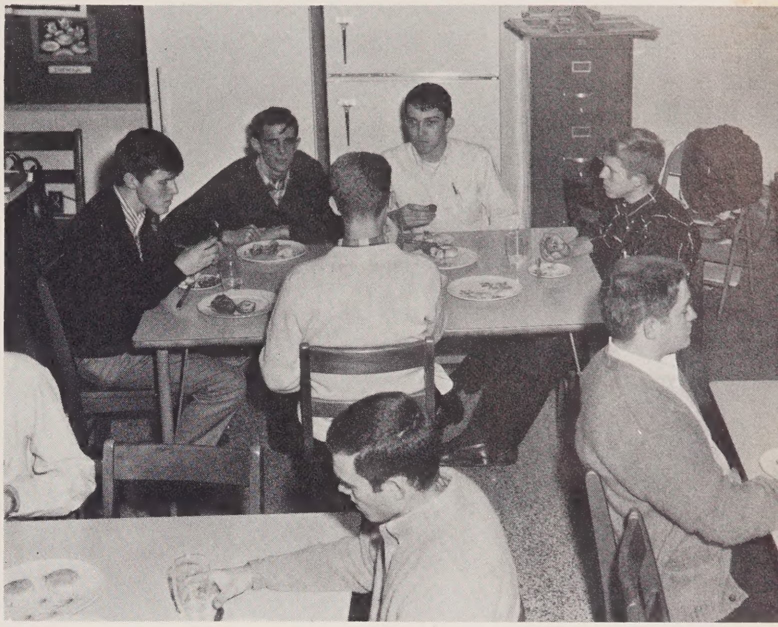
Art was a new addition to the curriculum this year. Under the instruction of Miss Nancy Johnston the class worked in various media, including water colors, charcoal and pen and ink. Above, members of the class are creating with water colors.

Bringing honor to the class were Ronald Snow and Keith Dillworth who won Gold Key awards in the Scholastic Art Award Contest sponsored by WFMY-TV in Greensboro.

. . . To Plan Their Future

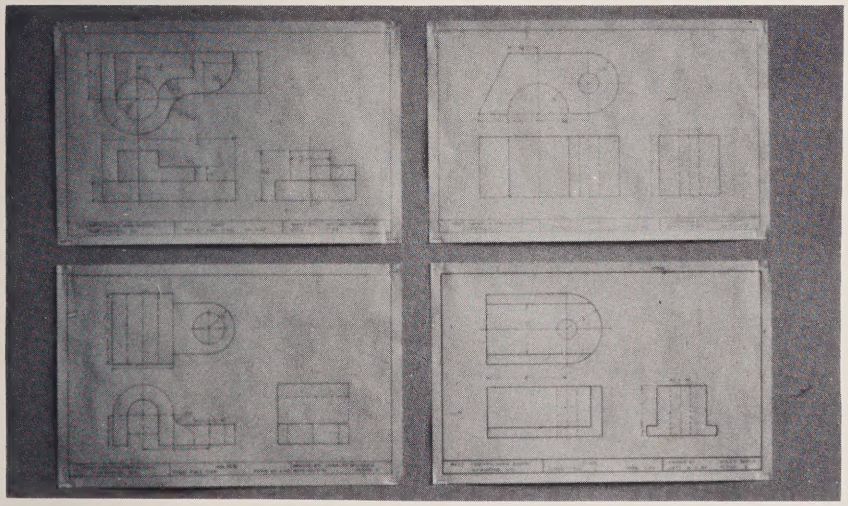
Home Economics

Third year Home Ec. students look on as Miss Huffman demonstrates the proper technique of mounting leaves to pre-schoolers during the Playschool held last fall.



Senior boys home economics class learned to cook their own meals and eat them too.

Mechanical Drawing

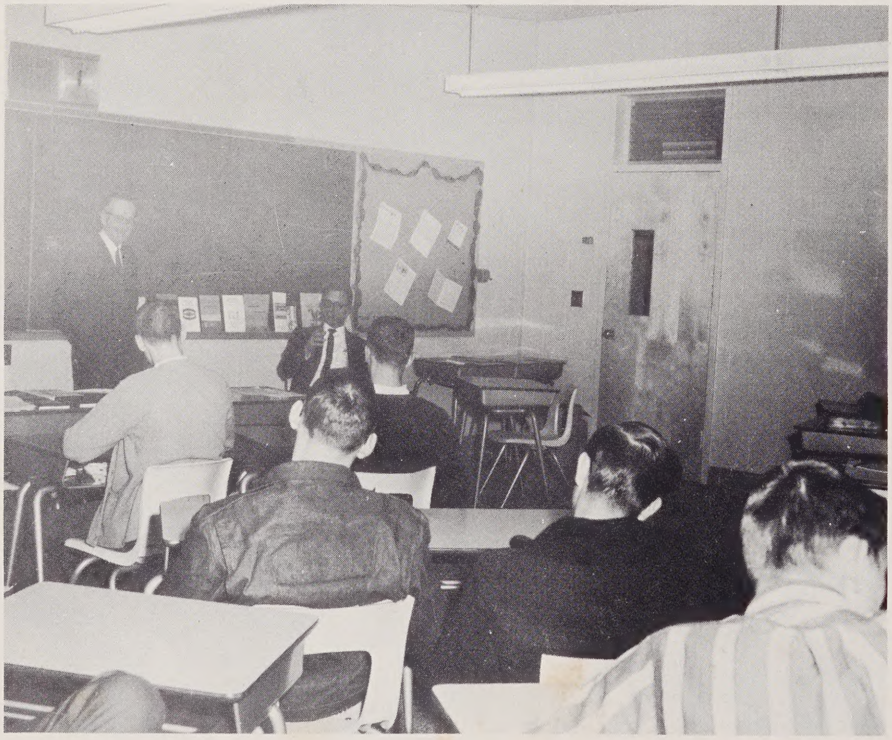


Exhibited above is the work of mechanical drawing students taught by Mr. Coble Bradley.

Bill Ervin uses his mechanical drawing instruments to construct a scaled drawing.

"Does Boyle's Law apply here, Mrs. Berridge?" Jimmy Mock asks during a Chemistry test. "Could be," Mrs. Berridge replies.

Doors Of The World And Mind

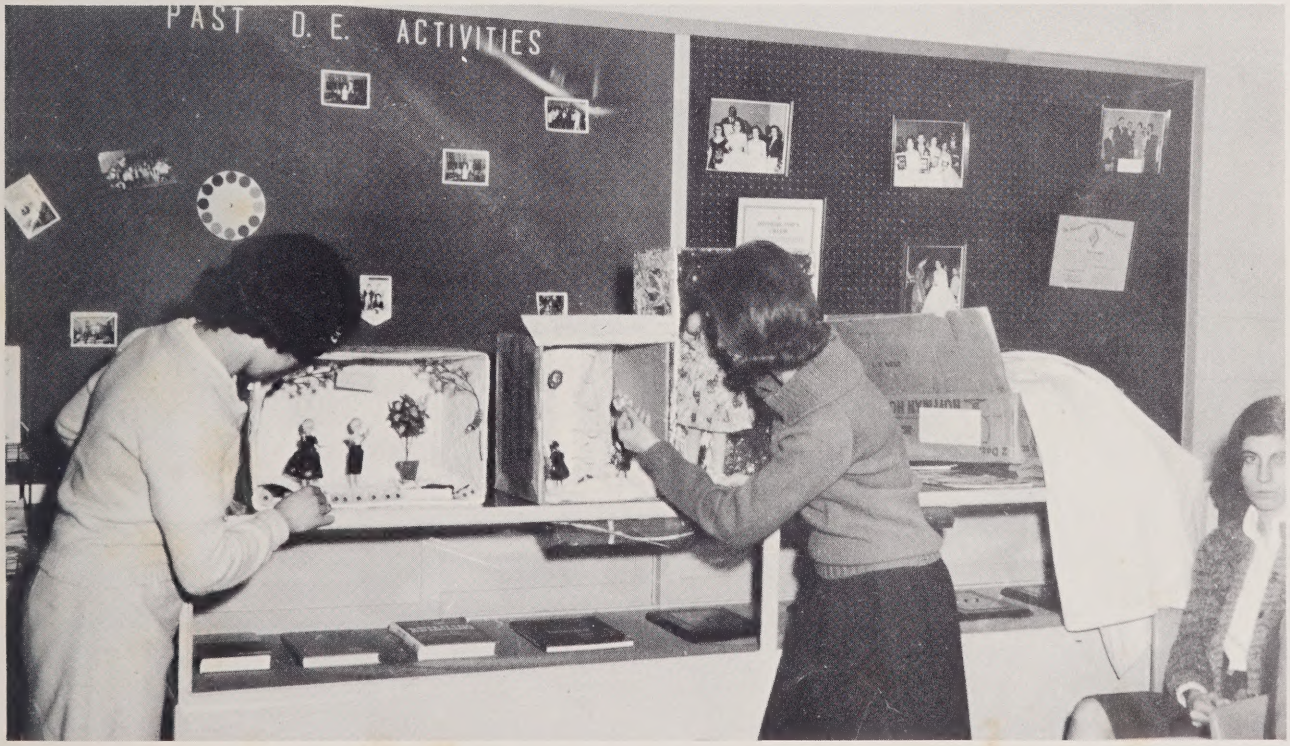


Industrial Co-operative Training students listen attentively to a guest speaker.

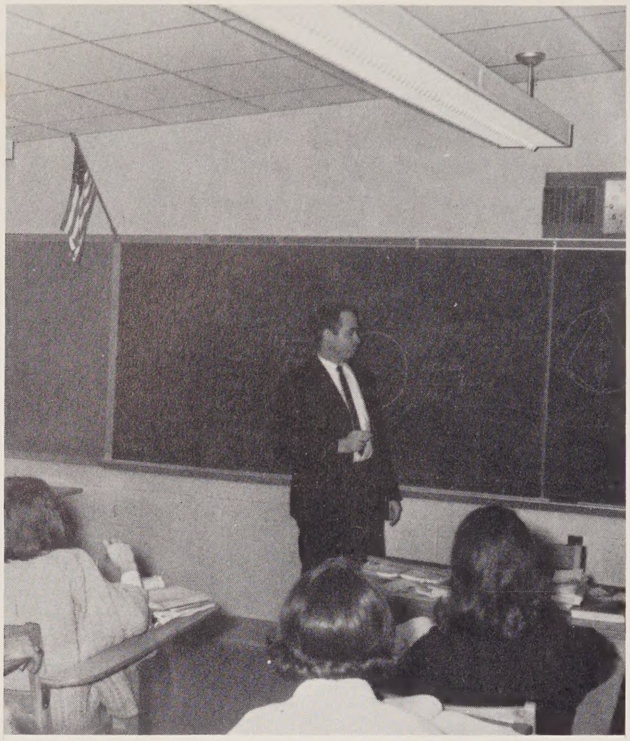
Are Opened . . .

Studious sophomores are challenged by a biology test in Mr. Snyder's second-period class.

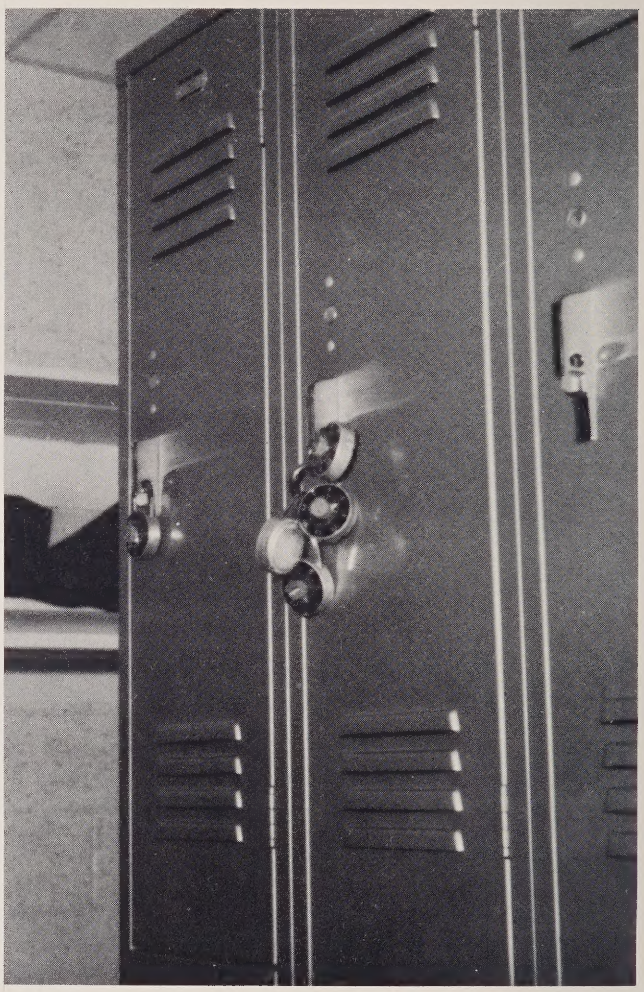
Distributive Education students put the final touches on the projects made for their class.



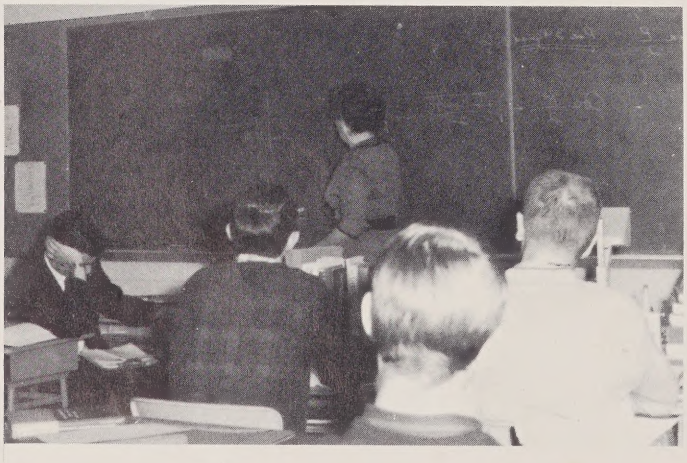
Math Presents A Challenge



Mr. Hall to his Plane Geometry class: "Well, if somebody would bring me a yard stick, I could do the problem!"



You'd have to be a whiz in math to figure this one out!

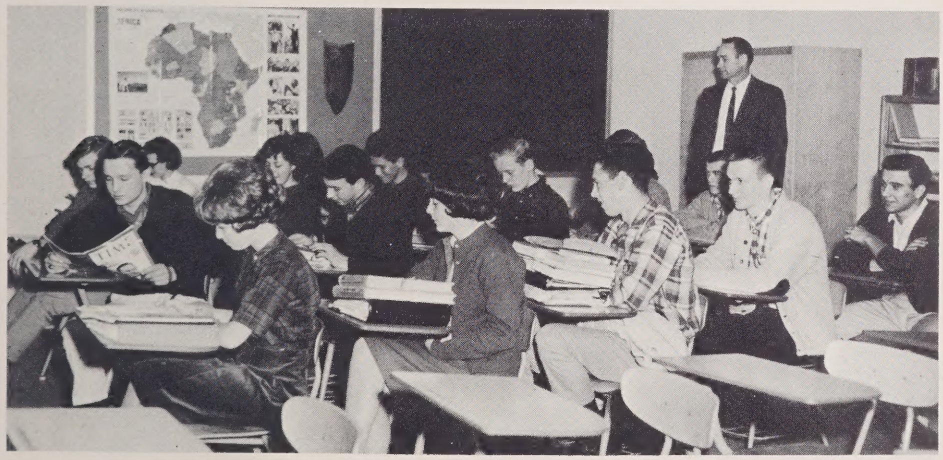


Mrs. Bonnie Green explains an element of trigonometry to her advanced math class.

History Illuminates World Events

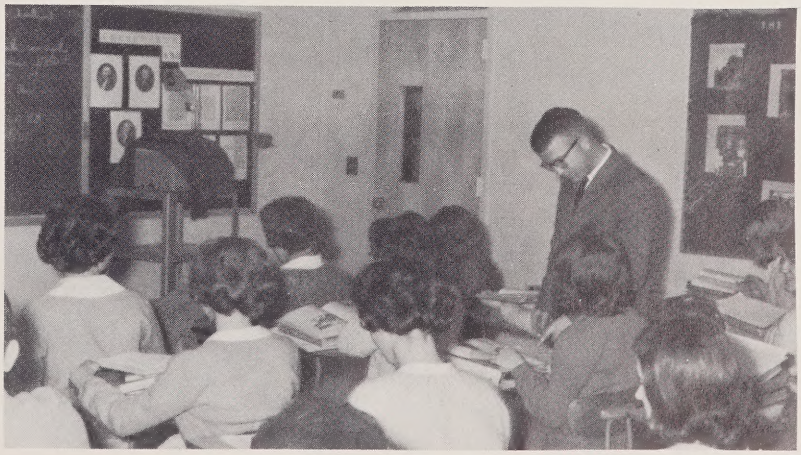
Team-teaching, new at West, is used for U. S. History students. Mr. Miller, Mr. Robinson and Mr. Frederick prepare the lectures, tests and special programs.

Shown above is the guest speaker from Wake Forest who spoke to the group on the Constitutionality of the Reconstruction Laws.

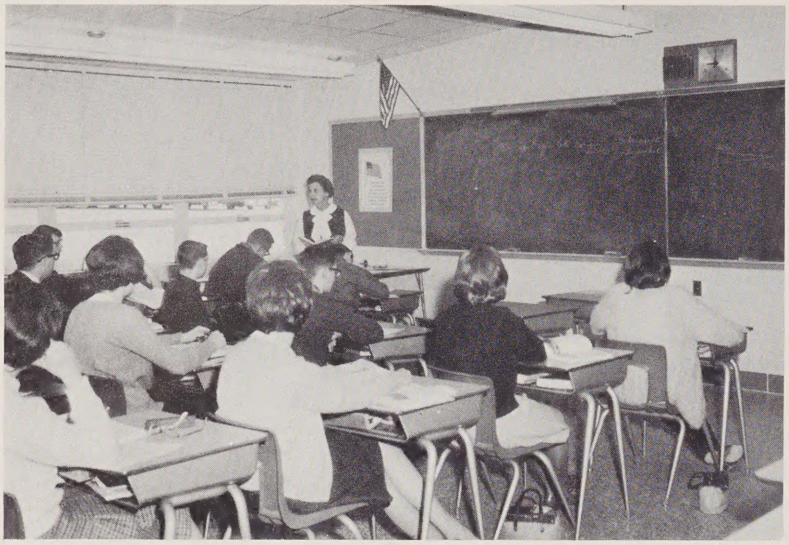


The Contemporary History Class made up of seniors and instructed by Mr. Robinson uses Time magazine to keep up with problems of today.

Mr. Miller explains the relation of the Renaissance to the lives of people of his World History students.



Building D: French Verbs, Latin Roots,



Mrs. Foster discusses subject-verb order with her Latin I class.

Mrs. Cooke, Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Mast work on mid-term exams for their English and French classes.

Mrs. Wilson's French III class puts West's new language lab to use.

Miss Farthing to a junior boy: "No, you can't go, but you may go!"

Mrs. Huffaker's sophomore class gets its first taste of Shakespeare while studying Julius Caesar.

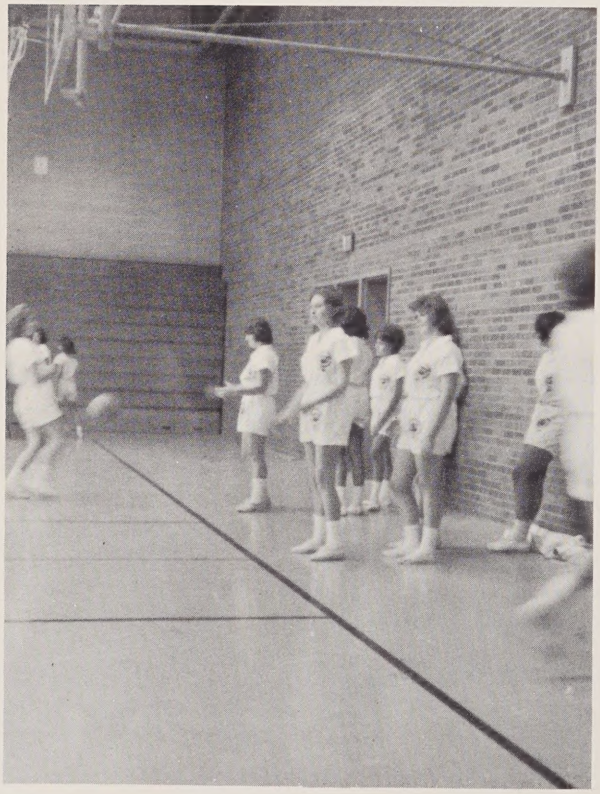
MacBeth, Moby Dick, Silas Marner

Who will be victim 17,801? Mr. Sechler urges his students to practice careful driving.

Mrs. Mast reminds her seniors that the test on Macbeth is tomorrow.

"If all else fails, try following the directions," these boys decide as they practice welding in the shop.

Titans Build Their Bodies, Skills . . .



Physical education class finds these girls warming up for basketball.

In a boys' physical education class, these boys play a vigorous game of basketball.

Voices And Their Future

All thoughts of studying and assignments are left in the lobby as most students eat lunch — some talk on the phone . . .

Advanced Placement

West Forsyth has thirteen Seniors participating in the Advanced Placement Program. These young scholars spend one hour of every day in college level classes of history, biology, chemistry, or English for possible college credit.

Forsyth Technical Institute Students

Bus Drivers

Machine Shop

Kathy Glasscock (office helper) signs in for Machine Shop students Johnny Burke, Larry Winfrey, Ira Sealey and Tony Dull. These students attend Reynolds in the morning for special Machine Shop classes and then return to West for afternoon classes.

Library Assistants

Checking books in and out, taking notes to the teachers, helping students find books, and typing cards are duties performed with perfection by library assistants under the direction of the librarian, Mrs. McGirt. These students are as follows: First Row: Faye Legains, Rebecca Hayes, Judith Franklin, Judy Pilcher. Second Row: Carolyn Summers, Joyce Franklin, Virginia Hunt, Becki Iobst, JoAnn Ketner, Kay Crimm. Last Row: Brenda Brown, Mrs. McGirt (not pictured: Keith Dillworth).

Guidance Assistants

Lunchroom Staff

The cafeteria staff was responsible for preparing and serving the mid-day meal. Every day, the students could choose between two main courses, four vegetables, rolls, three beverages, and at least six different kinds of desserts and salads. The staff included: 1st row: Mrs. Elizabeth Miller, Mrs. Nell Harper, Mrs. Edna Binkley, Dietician; Mrs. Emma Garrell, Mrs. Vera Maynard. 2nd row: Mrs. Vivian Evans, Mrs. Mary Atkins, Mrs. Lois Dorsett, Mrs. Alice Ketner, Mrs. Hettie Talbert, Mrs. Ida Lineback.

Maids and Janitors

Classes

Sophomore Class Officers are: (Seated, left to right) Judy Patton, Secretary; Duane Sidden, President; Libby Martin, Treasurer. (Standing first row left to right) Doug Taylor, Dianne Hoots, Judy Hellard, Susan Dyson, Kenny Nail. (Second row) Van Gurganus, Mark Southern, Skip Wilson. Frank Wilmoth.

Because of the rapid changes in the school system, the class of '67 was again placed in the position known as "under classmen." However, this position did not hinder their ever-present struggle to gain recogntion. They earned respect through their hard work on the sophomore prom, participation in Junior Varsity sports, and their interest and support of all extra curricular events. Not neglected were areas of classes, for the sophomores pondered over subjects such as Biology, World History, French, and Physical Education.

Sherry Myers and Billie Holbrook sign the bulletin board — a joyful expression of school spirit among the juniors.

West Forsyth's first junior class made its year a memorable one. The juniors faced a double challenge: to do justice to the position of upperclassmen and to contribute significantly to the activities of the school.

Accepting the challenge, the juniors eagerly delved in to their studies, even the difficult subjects such as chemistry, intermediate algebra, English, and foreign languages.

With this superior academic performance, the class of '66 earned their status as upperclassmen and also helped foster loyalty to the new school. Continuing their progress in fulfilling the dual challenge, the juniors developed a high level of extracurricular participation in sports, clubs, publications drill team, majorettes, and Student Council.

The juniors also staged three one-act plays, Tommy in the Dark, Ringing in the Groom, and The Storm. Receipts from this presentation financed the social event of the year, the Junior-Senior Prom.

Class Of '65

West's First Graduates

CLASS OFFICERS

Seated:

Bobby Myers, Treas.
Pat Vogler, Sec.
Steve Harper, Pres.

Standing:

Bill Anders
Buel Hughes
Bobby Powell
David Boone
Johnny Stewart
Cherry Tucker, Vice Pres.

The Senior year at West has been the best of their high school careers for the Class of 1965, the first graduating class of West Forsyth High School. Looking back on the year, they will remember the special events that ornamented it—the Junior-Senior, Homecoming, College Boards, and the Senior Play. But they will also remember the everyday events — classes, lunch periods, pep rallies, and ball games — that provided the foundations for school activities. For the Seniors this was the year of the class ring and college applications, book reports and beauty queens. It was a year of doing things that had been done all the years of school, but doing them for the last time. The people, the places, the good times never will they be forgotten. No, never forgotten—this Senior year for the Class of '65.

Activities and Features

One of the less serious of the Student Council projects was the sponsoring of dances.

Student Council Lays Foundation

Student Council is perhaps one of the greatest contributions to the activities of the school. Among its work the Council sponsors dances, boosts school spirit, plans bulletin boards and assembly programs and improve the school grounds.

Other activities include working on election procedures, printing of programs, sending expressions of sympathy and presenting the Follies.

One of the biggest projects within the Council was writing of the Constitution. A representative drew up and wrote the constitution for the West Forsyth Student Council.

The Student Council was divided into committees each responsible for a specific job. The committees and their chairmen are: sympathy, Ann Rothrock and Shelvia Surface; evaluation, John Whitener and Duane Sidden; awards and scholarship, Steve Harper and Demetra Milner; publication, Kenny Conrad and Mike Culbreth; booster, Cheryl Stimpson and Janie Burwell; hospitality, Diana Alspaugh; bulletin board, Charlene Cheatwood and Jimmy Latchford; interclub, Terry Greene; constitution, Jimmy Bailey; assembly, Gail Van Doeren and Martha Brewer; social, building and grounds, Debbie Disher and Marion Howard; publicity, Ernie Whitener and Ronnie Snow; finance, Elsie Ingram and Dianne Hendrix; pep club, Janie Burwell.

Cronus Staff: Creativity Plus Hard Work

Kay Harper
Editor-in-Chief

Staying after school, meeting at night, and working on Saturdays were all part of this year's annual. The staff, eager to get West's first Cronus off to a good start, tried to capture the spirit of West throughout the yearbook.

Knowledge gained at the Press Institute was put to use in the layouts, pictures, and copy. Despite the time-consuming work, participation on the Cronus Staff was a rewarding and satisfying experience for each member.

Members of the staff attending the N. C. Press Institute in Chapell Hill were Ronald Snow, Lynn Nelson, Dianne Hendrix, and Kay Harper. Dianne, a sophomore at West, was elected Treasurer of the Institute for 1964-1965.

Zephyr Keeps West Informed

Hurry, scurry, layouts to complete; hustle, bustle, deadlines to meet. The Zephyr Staff has worked diligently to give West Forsyth the best newspaper possible this year. Under the guidance of their sponsor, Miss Ruth Farthing, the capable members of the staff have exercised the good judgment and journalistic knowledge necessary in reporting the news. In addition to feature articles, sports news, and editorials, the staff has included a new "clublicity" section to cover events of the various clubs. The Zephyr has proved itself worthy of the confidence placed upon it by the well-informed student body here at West.

Quill and Scroll Inspires Journalists . . .

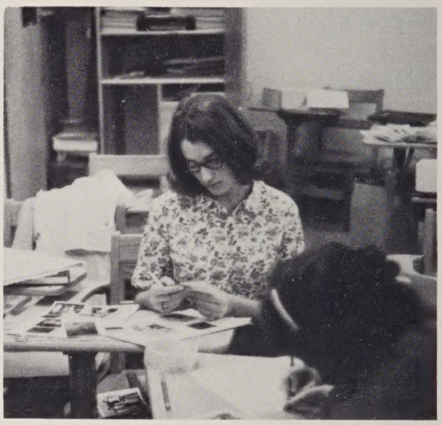
The Quill and Scroll, International Honorary Society for High School Journalists, admits into the club each year those students who have excelled in various areas on either the yearbook or newspaper staffs. Each member must be a junior or senior and rank in the upper third of his class. Shortly after the West chapter of the Quill and Scroll received its new charter, it held its first induction and tapped eighteen new members from the staffs.



Kay and Lynn work on final copy for the yearbook.

National Honor Society

Students are inducted into the National Honor Society twice a year. These students are chosen from the Junior and Senior classes and the membership is based upon scholarship, leadership, and service.

The National Honor Society gives public recognition to all students who make the quarterly honor roll. The Society had an assembly program for the student body which was a panel discussion of teachers and students. The members of the National Honor Society follow the progress of the former members throughout their college careers.

New inductees take their pledge.

Key Club

Service is the key word in the Key Club and service is what the 64-65 West Forsyth Club gave to their school. They have been at work constantly, sponsoring a canned food drive, working for the March of Dimes and collecting over three thousand dollars worth of materials during the Goodwill Bundle Bag Drive. Other projects included directing traffic at West the first of the year, cleaning the parking lot, selling Titan license plates and tags, and operating the concession stand.

Busy Seniors are Martha Redding, Dinah Holder, Carol Peters, Thurma Moser, Vicky Myers, Gail Mock, Cathy Wise, Pam Rogers, Cherry Tucker, Faye Legains, Toni Trivette.

Y-Teens meet monthly and have various programs, trips, and projects. Often programs are given by their own members, but occasionally they have special guest speakers such as the one from the Winston-Salem Beauty School. The group took a trip to the mountains in the fall and also visited the old folks at Dunham's Nursing Home at Thanksgiving. The Y-Teens sponsored the Valentine Dance and had an Easter assembly program for the school in the Spring.

"Anchors Away with FHA," was the 1964-65 theme for the FHA club for West Forsyth. The club has had monthly projects to carry out this theme. These include litterbags for the student body, learning three verses of the "Star Spangled Banner" and making signs urging the public to vote.

In October, the chapter attended the District V Rally at Northeast Guilford and presented a skit in the afternoon session. Presiding at the rally was Gail Van Doeren, State Reporter, who is a junior at West.

Daddy Date night, visiting Duke Power and a recreation program conducted by Mrs. Sue Drummond were among the interesting programs of the year.

The State Convention in March was held in Raleigh. Members attending were chosen according to their partciipation during the year.

Future Farmers of America

A new school, West Forsyth, offered a challenge for the FFA in the undertakings both outside and inside the new plant. The members sowed grass on the baseball field and built bleachers for the fans. Also, they put traffic signs up along the road. On the inside, the boys built a booth in the school gym for the scorekeepers at the basketball games.

Besides working at the school, the members sowed grass in a churchyard at Lewisville. A job such as this illustrates the kind of work the boys do for the community.

The boys participated in district contests and placed well in such events as field day, land judging, dairy judging, and tool judging.

The FFA isn't all work! The members have had enjoyable outings including a picnic at Tanglewood. A special occasion was the election of Chapter Sweetheart, Ann Rothrock.

Doing these jobs gives the members an opportunity to use their skill as Future Farmers of America to serve their school and community.

F. T. A. —Teachers' Helpers

Teas and special holiday favors for the West Forsyth teachers are among the activities of the Future Teachers of America. These activities help to make the teacher's job more enjoyable and worthwhile. The club stresses learning the various aspects of teaching, exploring interests in the teaching fields, cultivating in the members the high qualities of teachers, and assisting the faculty at West in any way possible.

Guest speakers appear frequently at the meetings which are held twice each month. The club also visits colleges and promotes interest in teaching careers.

Discussing plans with their advisor are the FTA officers . . . Sally Jones, Vice President; Sherry Myers, Treasurer; Darlene Allgood, Reporter; Mrs. Hester, Sponsor; Diane Shoaf, Secretary; Carolyn Messick, President; Sharon Messick, Historian.

Carolyn consults Mrs. Hester on plans for the Teachers' Tea.

One of the most active clubs on the campus at West Forsyth is the Science Club which has weekly meetings to present programs and to exchange ideas on various fields of science. All of these programs have been informative and have helped to satisfy the scientific curiosity of its members.

Outstanding events have been scientific movies, such as "Open Heart Operation," and outings to Hanes Park and Tanglewood Park. Officers of the club represented the group at a dinner at the American Legion.

Explores Hidden Values Of Math

Officers: Dickie Chandler, Vice-President; Toni Sick, Secretary-Treasurer; and Wiley Mock, President, with Mrs. Bonnie Green, Sponsor, explore new mathematical methods.

Special programs and films dominate the meetings of the Math Club at West Forsyth High.

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Bonnie Green, the club delves into such topics as the relation of mathematics to music, art, and economics; the lives of great mathematicians; curve stitching; matrices; and modulo arithmetic. Through these programs, the club members not only broaden their knowledge of mathematics but also realize its recreational value.

Youth For Christ

The YFC Club is a branch of Youth for Christ International. The club caters to the spiritual needs of the student body by providing special speakers, films, and programs. Members also attend weekly rallies held in the Winston-Salem area. The Bible Quiz Team both challenges and encourages students to study the Bible. On the West Forsyth Quiz Team are Clint Clampitt, Jo Ann Linville, Carol Whitaker, Bobby Hicks, Faye Legains, Jerry Smith, and David Wishon.

A paramount for the club was a Christmas in Nassau tour sponsored by the Greater Miami YFC. Those West High students who participated are Kathy Wagner, Clint Clampitt, Martha Redding, David Wishon, Cheryl Ball, and Carol Whitaker. The trip began with a 192-mile cruise on the SS FLORIDA from Miami to Nassau. While in Nassau, the excursionists enjoyed such events as a bicycle tour to Fort Charlotte, the Queen's Staircase, and Parliament House; a glass-bottom boat cruise and swim at the sea gardens; and a visit to the Straw Market and fish and vegetable stands. To the ire of the bobbies, the young people dodged sports cars, horse-drawn carriages, and bicycles in the bustling seaside streets.

Majorettes

New uniforms . . . plummed hats . . . twirling batons . . . tasseled boots, all these tokens belong to our Majorette squad. The group of ten energetic girls spent many hours planning behind-the-scene events such as sponsoring a car wash and victory dance to cover the expenses of a trip to Myrtle Beach in August and the cost of a Band Banner, making new uniforms, and performing in the Follies as well as the Spring Concert.

Stepping high to the thrilling beat of the drum, these girls enjoyed planning and performing for the crowds at football games, pep rallies, and the annual Winston-Salem Christmas parade. They took pleasure in these activities almost as much as they were enjoyed!

Alma Mater Is Chosen With Aid Of Meistersingers

Meistersingers, meaning "master singers," is the German name given to the top vocal group at West Forsyth. The name was chosen with plans for forming other groups which will be training groups or "stepping stones" to the Meistersingers. Aims of the Meistersingers include creating good singing, exposing the chorus and student body to all types of vocal music — from Bach to modern jazz and pop music.

Under the direction of Mr. John Foreman, the chorus of seventy-five voices has performed in various school functions this year. In addition to participating in pep rallies, the group sang three original songs from which the student body chose the school song. Special appearances were the Christmas program and the Spring Concert.

Shirley Moorefield, honor soloist, performs at Christmas Program.

The court, representing some of the hardest working staff members, was nominated by the entire yearbook staff and the honored couple was elected by the student body. Each student acquired a certain number of votes according to the date of his purchase of the yearbook. This was the first time such an honor has been given to any member of the Cronus staff for his service in the production of the yearbook. The court and this election served as a stimulus for the annual sales campaign.

On October 9, West Forsyth celebrated the traditional homecoming festivities by selecting twelve girls to reign over the homecoming court. Although this was not a homecoming for West, it served as such for the former graduates of Southwest. Four girls representing each class were presented to the football team, who then chose the queen.

Announcement of the queen came at half-time ceremonies. After the game, the court were honored guests at a dance. Preparations and arrangements for the events of homecoming were under the direction of the Social Committee with Ellie Ball as chairman.

BECKY and HUGH give up their title to Lynn and Fred.

As Sweethearts of 1965

JOANNE LINVILLE and
RAY TUTTLE

Lynn Nelson and Fred Snow were crowned as the first Valentine Sweethearts of West Forsyth by Becky Cooper and Hugh Hampton, the last Sweethearts of Southwest, at the Valentine Dance given by the Y-Teens on February 13.

Each of nine boys from the Varsity Basketball Team chose a girl as a sponsor. From these couples, the student body chose Lynn and Fred as the Sweethearts for 1965. For the dance, Cupids, dozens of white pom-pom flowers and big red hearts decorated the gym. Music by a combo highlighted the entertainment.

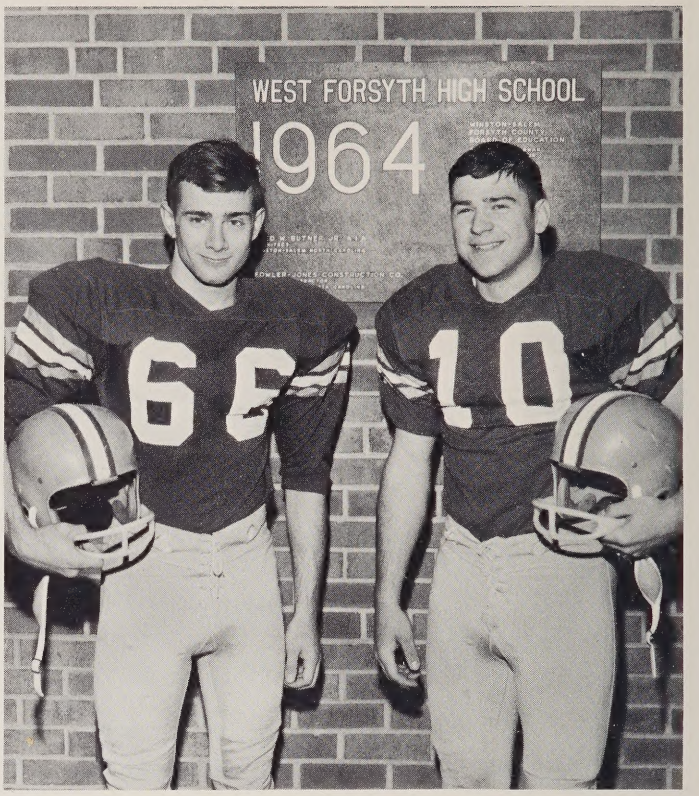
Varsity Football

A 5-4-1 record marked the first season of the West Forsyth Titans. The powerful pro-set offense of the Titans rolled up 2,150 yards rushing and their passing game held the opponents honest by completing 50 per cent of its passes for 900 yards. West scored 157 points while holding its opponents to 132.

All this could not have been accomplished without the efforts of the coaches, Mr. Gus Young and Mr. John Fredrick. Valuable services were also performed by Robert Lawson, manager.



Co-Captains elected by the football team are Barry Quinn and Steve Etchison.

WINSTON SALEM FORSYTH COUNTY SCHOOLS

The Titans were very proud of their defensive team. Linemen who earned special mention are David Williams, Jim Nester, Mike Krafft, and Ronnie Reavis. The defensive backfield of Larry Cain, Gray Crater, Eddie Hauser, and Steve Hege were all standouts. Jim Gobble and Jim Bailey were immovable as tough ends for the defensive.

The brunt of the running attack was carried by Ronnie Boose, Gray Crater, Steve Harper, and Jerry Smith. Jerry was also invaluable as a flanker-back along with speedster end Johnny Stewart. The offense could not have rolled without the able blocking of Co-Captain Barry Quinn, Charles Hauser, Van Griffith and Jim Bailey. Steve Etchison led the scoring with 37 points. Jerry Smith contributed 36.

Varsity Cheerleaders

Miss Sally Huffman

The cheerleaders lead the Christmas Parade.

Janie Burwell
Chief

During the fall the cheerleaders treated the football team to a hot dog supper with the money they earned from a carwash. Throughout the year the squad sponsored several "spirit weeks" and post game dances. In November the cheerleaders represented West in the Christmas parade. Not only did these girls perfect and execute routines at ball games but also helped to promote school spirit at all times.

A pre-school dance forecast the pace which the cheerleaders maintained with their varied activities during the year. This was followed by rousing pep rallies in which they taught their new routines to the student body. Long remembered were the "Roaring 20's" and "Wild West" pep rallies.

Demonstrating a new routine!

This year's Junior Varsity cheerleaders had a very busy year establishing new J.V. traditions at West. In previous years, their games were in the afternoon, but this year some were at night. They also inaugurated the idea of pep rallies in the mornings before school. Displaying their energetic enthusiasm, they sponsored a bake sale to buy their own uniforms and letters.

Danny Tucker sweeps right end.

The "baby" Titans led by Steve Hire, Kenny Nail, Danny Tucker and Butch Robertson finished third in the tough 3-A conference. Their 1-5 record did not show the tremendous effort put out by these boys, coached by Mr. Harold Miller and Mr. Jim Mast.

Latchford and Whitman take the lead in the Forsyth Invitational.

Although all of the members of our Cross Country team were good, D. C. Shelton, Jimmy Latchford, and Bob Clore were outstanding. They were our top three finishers in the Invitational meet at Wake Forest. These fellows trained hard to get the stamina to run the two-mile course which tested endurance.

The Titan Wrestlers presented West with the first trophy for athletic competition. With eight wins and four losses, the West Mat Team tied for the conference crown with North Forsyth.

After beating East three times and Griffith twice, West had representatives in the District Tournament. Darrell Ship finished fourth in the district. Larry Ball and Larry Winfrey lost by decisions.

Finishing second in the district meet, Ronnie Scharff qualified for the state meet where he lost out in the finals. The boys with the outstanding records were Ronnie Scharff with 14-3; Larry Winfrey, 11-1; and Larry Cain, 8-0.

Billy Huff (15.5), Ronnie Reavis (12.9), and Hugh Hampton (9.2) led the offense. Hampton (44.4%), Reavis (44.2%) and David Ebert (44.4%) led in shooting accuracy with Huff (43.8%) close behind. Mo Collette led the free throw percentage making 91.7% of his charity tosses. Huff was next sinking 83.3%. Reavis, Hampton, and Mike Culbreth led the rebounding with 161, 121 and 98 respectively. The defense was topped by Eddie Hauser, Hampton and Culbreth. Steve Gurganus, Ray Tuttle and Frank Brewer saw frequent action also. Steve Bumgardner, Fred Snow, and Tommy Webster gained valuable experience as reserve players for next year's Titans.

West's 3-A Tournament Champions and regular season Conference Co-Champions showed that hard work and long hours of practice pay off. The Girls' Varsity Basketball Team was a huge success during their first season.

After losing the opener, West bounced back for an eight-game win-streak. The Titans split their regular season pair of games with East and shared the regular season title with the Eagles. East was the only conference foe not defeated at least twice by the Titans.

In the tournament, West found themselves again facing East in the finals. However, the Titans rose to the occasion, beating the Eagles 35-33, and bringing home West's first basketball trophy.

The girls were paced by several All-Conference players. Brenda Wooten, Marilyn Sheets, and Sue Huffstetler made the first team; Gail Van Doeren was placed on the second team. Ann Davis and Ann Rothrock received honorable mention.

Bowling Team

The West Forsyth bowling teams add more glory to the sports record of the school. The West Giants, the West 4 and 1's, and the West Five Kings bowl each Saturday against teams from Reynolds at the Major League Lanes. A team composed of Mike Saunders, Dennis Cooper, Bobby Myers, Mike Hundley, and Harold Lawing won a plaque by beating Northside. Mike Saunders with a 520 won first place in the individual scratch tournament. Gilmer Collette with a 649 first place in the handicap tournament, and Marion Howard placed third in the girls division.

And still another strike for the Five Kings. . .
